(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, May 1.—Dan Johnson announces that there will be no baseball next year if the war continues.

SALVATORE AND MATHEWS ARE TO FIGHT AT THE AIRDOME

The Tonopah Business Men's Athletic club will stage one of the fastest and best boxing cards at the Airdome Theater that has ever been seen in this section, on the night of Tuesday, May 15th, when Sally Salvatore and Danny Mathews line up for the ten-round final for one of the largest purses ever put up by this organization.

Salvatore has been fighting in Portland, Oregon, and Seattle, Washington, during the past winter, and has won six straight events, while Mathews, the popular Goldfield lightweight, has been preparing himself for the past ten days for his coming fight.

Philly Salvatore, the fast 125-pound brother of Sally, will also box Arthur Dupont in the six-round preliminary to the main event, and as these boys are fast and clever two of the highest class matches ever staged in the Airdome should result.

Honest Mike Geary of Goldfield has been chosen referee and Dr. J. L. McCarthy, official time keeper. Both of the Salvatore brothers are expected to leave Sacramento Friday and should arrive in Tonopah Saturday of this week, when they will at once start training at the volunteer fire department gymnasium.

The Tonopah Military Band will furnish music for the show.

UNIVERSITY TERRACE AT RENO OFFERS ATTRACTIVE HOME SITES

Tonopah citizens are taking great interest in the sale of lots in University Terrace addition to Reno. Some of the best lots have been bought by local people with the idea of improving them without delay. The addition is situated directly west of the university and is the most slightly location in the prettiest city in Nevada, where the home life and culture of the state must naturally gravitate. Each sale is subject to restrictions on the quality of improvements which cannot cost less than $2500 for lots. The magnificent grounds are entered from Eleventh and Sierra streets and cover the space between Eleventh and Fourteenth streets bounded on the east by Sierra and on the west by Washington streets.

The acreage was formerly owned by the Reno Light & Power company, but since it was taken over by the Bonham Real Estate company, the present owners, the area has been improved under direction of one of the best landscape gardeners and a firm of leading engineers who succeeded in producing a most charming combination for residence purposes. There is not a rectangular block or a right-angled roadway on the plat and every effort was made to retain the beautiful rolling character of the ground. Instead of leveling everything down to a monotonous regularity the contour of the several hills was preserved and the boulevards and avenues curved around the different eminences. The addition is improved with cement curbing, cement gutters and paved roadways, underlaid with gas, water and sewer pipes, so the man who is going to build will not have any expense for bringing these improvements to his doorway. All improvements are made under specifications furnished by the city engineer of Reno. Trolley cars run within a block and a half and the distance from the center of the city can be covered easily in ten minutes. S. R. Moore & Co., of Tonopah, have been appointed local sales agents and those who are interested in securing an eligible site, either for a home or speculation, are urged to call at the office of this company, where additional information may be had.

The stipulation that a buyer must improve his holdings with a building worth not less than $2500 does not apply to each individual lot but to each contract, whether that includes one or more lots. Adv.M1

ORIZABA MINE SOLD GENERAL MINES CO.

The Orizaba mine has been optioned under bond and lease to the General Mines company, a Reno corporation, comprising some of the best known capitalists of Nevada, who are also operating in the northern part of the state and hold interests near Mina. The final details were closed yesterday and the new company is now in charge of the property on a short term bond and lease arrangement pending further sampling of the mine. The new company will proceed at once to dewater the mine and sink the shaft another 100 feet. A boiler rated at 80-horsepower now at Golden will be transferred to the Orizaba and the pumps kept going to enable sinking operations to go on. The only trouble has been that the old company was not sufficiently equipped to take care of the water which was making at the rate of 100,000 gallons a day. At present the water level is at the 100-foot point from which considerable lateral work was done with the result that the mine shipped at various stages over $65,000 worth of ore. The average of the mine is $40 in gold and silver, with the latter running at the rate of one in ten. The General Mines company, after completing the sampling at depth will erect a mill on lines similar to what have made the Tonopah mills so efficient.

The Orizaba includes nine claims which were held by the Orizaba Mining and Milling company. The group was located in 1903 by Ed Workman, who afterwards discovered the camp of National, Frank Davis and Tom Kendall. The property then was sold to the Orizaba Mining company, which did considerable work until 1907 when the panic caused the company embarrassment and the Tonopah Banking Corporation took possession. That was the situation in 1913 when P. V. Rovinane secured a lease and bond and at once took hold. Since that date over 1000 feet of lateral work has been done, but it was impossible to get below the water level. Owing to the heavy cost of transportation only the highest grade of ore could be shipped and it is estimated that most of the tonnage was worth between $50 and $100 a ton. The management states that 10,000 tons of good milling ore remains on the dump or blocked out in the mine. Two ore shoots were opened one in the east and the other in the west drift. The west shoot is the richer and is developed for 180 feet on the water level with several winzes dropping into the rich sulphide ore. The east shoot is opened for a distance of 100 feet.

The mine will be in charge of W. G. Lovie, until the property is proved up. It is situated five miles southwest of Cloverdale in the low range of hills and ten men are employed. The values are formed in the lime on a granite lime contact and those who are familiar with it predict that it will be one of the greatest silver mines of Nevada. Mr. Lovie says his company is not afraid of the silver market slumping for he believes there will be steady advance as soon as the silver can be delivered in Europe, but he would be satisfied with a steady market on a basis of 75 cents.

ZANZIBAR SALE CLOSED YESTERDAY

ADJOINS THE WHITE CAPS AND IS REGARDED AS ONE OF THE BEST IN DISTRICT

The sale of the Zanzibar Mining company property east and lining the White Caps was consummated yesterday, according to a statement of John H. Miller, who is associated with George Winfield in the transaction. The Zanzibar was controlled by W. S. Johnson, former postmaster of Manhattan, who is now a resident of Reno. When Mr. Johnson was in Manhattan three weeks ago he gave friends to understand that there would be something doing in the property before long and that development of a comprehensive character would ensue after the details were closed up. The advent of Mr. Winfield in the Pine Tree camp has been anticipated as it was known that from the early days of the White Caps exploration he had agents on the ground watching operations closely.

BUTLER THEATER

The patrons at the Butler Theater last evening were given a real treat by the new Butler Orchestra under the able direction of Milton I. Jacobi. This was Mr. Jacobi's first appearance in Tonopah, but he has already proven himself to be an artist in his line. The same can also be said of Mr. Herman Miller, who officiates on the traps, and who accompanied Mr. Jacobi from San Francisco.

Tonight the big picture will be shown, "Joan the Woman," featuring Geraldine Farrar. You, into whose hands are given the care and protection of the lives of the women of today, cannot afford to miss the portrayal of the life of the most wonderful woman who ever lived. You who are old will find sweetness and comfort in her company; you who are young will be ennobled by her association. Geraldine Farrar says: "Joan of Arc is the Woman Christ of all ages." The preliminary reel will be a Ford animated picture of the Grand Canyon, Arizona, one of the most brilliant colored scenes ever filmed.

The evening show will start promptly at 7:15. Everyone is urged to be on time to see the picture from the beginning. There will be only one show, as it runs a full three hours. Tomorrow, this wonderful picture will be repeated, and there will be a special matinee given for the children, starting at 2:30.

LIBERTY THEATER

A special May day and Dewey day program has been arranged for today which will consist of special music by the following four-piece orchestra during the first show: Herman Albert, cello; Joe Monagan, cornet; Fred Thomas, piano; Wm. Young, drums. A five-reel World Brady made picture "On Dangerous Ground" featuring Gail Kane and Carlyle Blackwell. This is a drama woven about an interesting phase of the great European war, but it is entirely different from any war drama yet produced. This story has to do with the work of the secret service of the warring countries in the early days of the conflict and it details the efforts of a beautiful French girl who is a French spy to reach France from Germany. To do this she is forced to pass herself off as the wife of an American who is traveling in Germany at the time. The necessity leads to many thrilling situations. "On Dangerous Ground" moves with a rush that thrills all the spectators.

Uncle Sam's defenders, "From Citizen to Soldier," business men in uniform receive practical instructions in every branch of the service. Tomorrow: Richard Bennett in "Damaged Goods," a vital drama of moral uplift, picturing the terrible consequences of vice. No children allowed unless they are with their parents. Mutual Weekly, showing all the latest war news of the day.
